

"I am all right now, thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy."

The same relief is ready for you. Are you sure you do not need it? If Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy helped Charles Holmes, why won't it help you?

"I was troubled with heart disease, and after reading about Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I got a bottle. Before I got the Heart Remedy I had to sit up most of the night, and felt very bad at my stomach. Whatever I would eat made me feel worse, and my heart beat very fast. But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I am all right now. I eat good, sleep good, and feel like a new man, although I am almost 68 years old. I have been a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, and was badly wounded." CHARLES HOLMES, Private Co. WILL NAME ENTRANTS IN POOL TOURNAMENT SOON

Announcement of the entrants in the local pool tournament will be made some time during the present week. The delay in making this announcement has been due to the fact that the promoters desired to have each of the six men who will fight it out evenly matched. A prize will be offered the winner of the tournament.

There are a number of devotees of pool in Richmond, but many of these admirers of the game have lost interest because of the taint of professionalism which has heretofore made itself apparent at match games. The present tournament will be absolutely free from such charge. Only amateurs of bona fide standing will be allowed to compete.

Should the contemplated tournament prove a success, then other tournaments will be arranged during the winter, and the probability is that there will be a purely professional meet when men from outside the city and State will be invited to compete. Many of the owners of the local pool parlors are willing to join hands and put up the necessary funds for prizes.

Shafts From Sportland

By G. MALBERT

Wonder what Grillo will say now? Truth to tell, we were much surprised over the result of that Georgetown-Virginia game, and in view of the statements made by those who should know, are willing to admit that the laddies who play on the knolls of Washington have the best team. But it is impossible to convince some of us, at least, that V. P. L. hasn't got it on that.

DROVE CARRIAGE INTO STREET-CAR

James Taylor, Hackman, Knocked from Seat and Rendered Unconscious.

Driving his carriage directly in front of Clay Street car No. 226, James Taylor, a negro hack driver, was knocked from his seat and rendered unconscious and both carriage and car were badly damaged shortly before 7 o'clock last night. The accident occurred on Clay Street between Grace and Franklin Streets, and before Motorman E. S. Burns had any warning of its presence. It struck the top of the Hackman, sending the carriage flying into the air, and the horses broke loose from the harness and got away, afterwards being caught by the police. Taylor was thrown from his seat and was senseless when picked up. The street car was so badly damaged that it was followed back to the depot, where it was taken to the repair shop. Motorman Burns, now Conductor R. H. Johnson was hurt. The city ambulance was summoned to treat Taylor, and Dr. Harshbarger carried him to the Virginia Hospital. It was ascertained that the condition of the negro driver was not much injured, but the Virginia Hospital refused to give any information as to his condition when called up by telephone shortly before midnight.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Richmond Railroad Men Again Honor H. M. Boykin.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year last night at a meeting of the Richmond Railroad Club, held in the assembly hall at Murphy's Hotel. Once more the club elected its honored president, H. M. Boykin, and placed William H. White, president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and J. F. Walsh on its executive committee.

The election was by ballot, which contained the names of nominees secured by mail from the members. Any one had the right to make any nomination he pleased for any office. F. O. Robinson, the secretary and treasurer, and the life of the club, had no opposition, but over all other officers there was contest.

The club decided to change its regular meeting night from the second Monday to the second Friday in each month. The usual dinner followed the meeting.

The new officers are as follows: H. M. Boykin, president; E. H. Lee, first vice-president; A. H. Moncure, second vice-president; B. T. Jellison, third vice-president; P. O. Robinson, secretary and treasurer; W. H. White, George W. Stevens and J. F. Walsh, executive committee; Charles Lorraine, Andrew Welsh, C. C. Corkran and J. R. Gould, finance committee.

Sign Up for 1911.

New York, November 14.—Jack Quinn, pitcher, and Earl Gardner, second baseman, have signed with the New York Americans for 1911, according to announcement made to night.

that is Vanderbilt, and there be those who will not rank the Virginia school second to that very good team.

It is indeed a pity that petty squabbles and differences which should have melted with age are allowed to keep the two representative teams of the V. P. L. in the professional which was made in connection with the game of 1904 can be sustained. Yet, on the other hand, Virginia was not quite so particular in days gone by in regard to athletic sports as it is today. In of two schools could come together, each and reach an amicable agreement which, under modern conditions, would ban all semblance of professionalism. To-day the aim should be, as it was in the past, to win, but it should be, and is, the desire, to win fairly.

In view of the outcome of the game with Georgetown, it is now invited to opinions of what the outcome of the same no one will place any faith in what the promoters' prognostications are, but then we can always have some fun with the prognostications. At any rate, a wire from the club informs us that the defeat was the Carolina's, and that the coaches have taken our advice and sent some of the players to shine elsewhere than on a football field and has recruited from the scrubs he may have a chance. Otherwise, nay.

It may not have been noticed before, but the Eastern Virginia League football championship has never been decided. Randolph-Macon has had a chance to win on several occasions. Richmond College always stood in the way. The same situation exists to-day. Randolph-Macon has a clean record, but Richmond College will endeavor to keep the cup languishing in a jeweler's shop for another season at least.

Now they are saying up at Ann Arbor that there is a new champion to those Eastern teams at that. Just a moment ago we had won. Yet claims that he has come to hand are true there is some merit to contention, for Michigan kept the ball in Pennsylvania's hands throughout most of the game. But if you don't win, you don't win, and that cuts out the argument.

"Wonder what Yale would do if Walter Camp were out of the game?" That question, which some people are of the opinion that Yale would not have many representatives on the All-American team, if the ancient and honorable didn't pick the team for the game. Of course, he's just prejudiced, but he's a Yale man for a that.

Up at old Pitt the victory of Saturday has led to a belief that Harvard will not have the walk over predicted a few days ago. Kilpatrick continues in condition, and if the rest of the team continues to improve, the assertion may not be so far-fetched as it might believe. True, Harvard looks like a winner, but there is a certain tenseness about the Harvard team which is hard to combat. No predictions; but don't bet that the score will be larger than it will be.

The death of Captain Munk, left halfback on the West Virginia University team, is to whom more is deplored than in this office. But more to be deplored is the death itself is the charge that another college man is accused of his murder. Report says that McCoy, on the West Virginia College team, deliberately struck Munk, who was not carrying the ball, but had been the star of the game, on the forehead with the fist, and that the blow caused the death of the young man. No man on earth is more in college spirit than I am. Possibly no man has ever been more combative with the writer when his team was playing another. But there is no excuse or palliation for a man who strikes another. It is only thing I can say is that I hope the police authorities are mistaken.

The horse show is on at Madison Square Garden, New York, and many visitors have been attracted by reason of the magnificent display of horsemanship now on. All of which simply goes to prove that in spite of aviation and automobiles the horse has not lost his hold on the great American public.

It might be wise for the New Jersey institution of higher knowledge, now advertising as willing to exchange a brand-new Democratic Governor-elect for a real live football team, to apply at New York City. They have a Democratic Governor-elect on hand, but contrary to popular belief, they have some football team.

A medal has been awarded by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission to the man who predicted a Yale victory and who was yet brave enough not to say "I told you so." Same kind of medal has been given to all sporting writers who failed to explain that Yale "came back."

Man in Cadiz, O., announces that he will give $5,000 to be carried from Baltimore to Wheeling, W. Va. Not at all surprising, as it is worth twice the amount to be carried from Baltimore to New York City. Don't see anybody wanting to leave Richmond by the air route, but I'll bet a whole English monarchs temporarily living in heathenish climes who would give the United States Treasury to fly back.

As a matter of fact, flying is getting entirely too high-toned. It is all right for soldiers of a great line to make only two or three takes the sport, but when Prince Henry of Prussia, who set this country up on its ears a few years ago, comes to play the trade, it is time for us poor plebes to enter a protest. Prince Henry, in addition to his other tutors, now has an aeroplane working in his castle.

Grant Eby, champion pool player of the west, died at the age of thirty-two in New York at the age of thirty-two. He died of paralysis. At one time Eby bent all comers.

All of this talk about Frankie Conley, the Wisconsin lad who fought Abe Attell a draw in New Orleans Sunday, being the better man is a joke to those who know Attell. Conley may be a good scrapper, but Attell needs money, or at least wants it, and evidently played with the Kansas City Wanderers in order to let it be a draw, saving him for future reference.

BIBLE CLASS PARADE

Committees at Work to Bring Out Big Crowd on Sunday.

But little remains to be done in the work of organizing the thousands of men who are to participate in the mass-meeting which is to be held in the City Auditorium on Sunday afternoon. Members of Bible classes all over the city have been reminded of the meeting, notices having been read from many pulpits on Sunday morning.

Considerable effort is required to arrange for this great demonstration, and the officers of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes are overlooking no detail in their preparations. The convention last year surpassed anything of the kind ever attempted before in the South, and next Bible students are determined to excel their previous record this year.

According to leaders, men are being aroused to the realization of the fact that they are the natural leaders of the boys, and that unless they take an active part in church work the boys can hardly be expected to follow. It is pointed out that last year several laymen of one church found that there were only two boys in their Sunday school who were sixteen years old. The result of their surprise was that a Bible class was at once organized, and this is what has been happening in many Richmond churches, and the leaders, and upon this fact they base their belief that fully 6,000 will be present at the Auditorium next Sunday.

The principal speaker of the occasion will be Henry B. McFarland, a man of national reputation. He will reach here Saturday night and will be privately entertained during his stay.

Marriage Licenses were issued yesterday in the Hustings Court to Leon M. Rowe and Willie M. Lowery; Gardner T. Holes and Joseph M. L. Howard Smith and Ruth Jane Pearce.

Justice Turpin Sustained. Verdict and judgment were entered yesterday in the Law and Equity Court in the case of Mrs. M. L. Vorthman against the Camps Express Company. For the case had been appealed from the court of the Civil Justice, Judge Turpin being sustained.

BIG STICK IS WIELDED IN VIRGINIA LEAGUE

The cat is out of the bag. It was a long time finding its way to the light, but now it is perfectly happy under the glare of a noonday sun. Every fan in Richmond knows just how the matter stands in Norfolk. Nothing can be definitely done until the receiver, appointed by the court, says that there will be a sale of the team's franchise. The people in Norfolk who hold preferred stock want to get their money back. Unquestionably they want their money back. Now there are but two ways to get the money. One is to find some one who thinks that the Norfolk franchise in the Virginia League is worth more than the indebtedness, and the other is to make the holders of the other franchises in the Virginia League come across with the price.

For a time the score was thrown out that Danville would be made to leave the league. Then it was rumored that Lynchburg, because of trouble in floating stock of the new organization, would be dropped. Now Danville never had any idea of being bought out. Neither did Lynchburg. In course they have made no money in the Hill City—in fact, they have lost money—but there has never been any idea of giving up the franchise. Neither has Danville seriously considered not being in the Virginia League. The Danville franchise, however, and they were going to hold on to that franchise. Talk to the contrary was misleading.

So the matter stands that the Virginia League magnates must protect themselves from being held up in Norfolk. The question naturally arose, "How?"

Across the river from Norfolk lay Portsmouth, a town always known for the loyalty of its supporters. In 1908 this from W. B. Bradley, owner of the Richmond team—Portsmouth drew more people than Norfolk. Certainly Portsmouth was derelict in 1910, but what of that? There are backsliders in every walk of life. Now, however, Portsmouth has signed up 100 citizens, each holding one share of stock in the proposed Portsmouth team. These shares are valued at $50 each, making a total of $5,000 to start. Portsmouth plenty enough money, again according to W. B. Bradley.

An unveiling at last. Here is the big stick of Virginia League baseball. If Norfolk and the people who hold the franchise want too much money, why we magnates of the Virginia League will simply say, "Get you gone, we will put a team in Portsmouth. Call it the Norfolk-Portsmouth team and you can go hungry for the national pastime."

The great secret is no longer a secret. To heavy, hangs over your head, and is no longer ascribed the bugaboo of State baseball. Norfolk will either come across in acceptable fashion or Norfolk can cross over to Portsmouth and scent the battle from afar.

It will be playing Norfolk against Portsmouth. Watch the result. Conso and Hannan, out of Portsmouth is the go-between. This is the sum and substance of the situation in Norfolk.

Time Limit for Tax Reduction. Persons having complaint to make about the assessment on their property have up to February 1 to apply in the Hustings Court for a reduction of assessment for that year. The tax books are open for inspection, and the clerk has prepared printed forms to be used by applicants.

Applications cannot be received after February 1, that being the last day under law on which they may be made.

Moore's Case Is Continued. The case against Michael J. Moore, white, charged with selling liquor on Sunday and without a license, was continued in the Police Court yesterday morning to November 23. Security in the sum of $500 was given for his appearance on that date.

Merriman Washington, colored, charged with stealing a pair of shoes from David Newman, was sentenced to sixty days in jail.

Protects Friend With Revolver. T. G. Bowling, clerk at Gilbert's Hotel, used a revolver yesterday morning to protect a friend, Lionel Vaughan-Lloyd, from being assaulted by two men who became angered when several "Ben Hur" trunks fell from a truck and nearly struck one of them in front of the hotel. A fight started between them and Vaughan-Lloyd and Bowling, seeing two men making an onset on one, interfered with drawn revolver. No shot was fired, and the men walked off.

Smoked Up Officers. Several engine companies answered a fire alarm yesterday morning from the Chesapeake and Ohio Company offices, 821 East Main Street, only to discover that all the smoke came from a puffed fuse. It took some minutes, however, to locate the source of the smoke, and some flooring had to be taken up before it was found. In the meantime employees in the various offices were busy carrying out valuable papers.

Judgment Entered. Judgment was entered yesterday in the City Circuit Court in the case of Basil H. Garthright, administrator of the estate of Samuel W. Rickett, against J. H. Eagle for $50, subject to a credit of $25.00, the case having been appealed from the decision of Civil Justice Turpin, who was sustained.
